The Lost Episodes are a Great Treat! By john watson bruce These shows have been missing for decades have been found and restored as best they could from the original masters though the sound is not pristine it is very enjoyable! It's amazing how much John Stanley sounds like Basil Rathbone except his diction is even better than Basil's. The stories are very good with a few that don't quite hit the mark all in all if you are a collector you will surely like to add this to your Holmesian collection by joove!
