A real cliffhanger!!!!By Michael D.One of the greatest radio chapter plays from 1945, Atom Man vs. Superman, is a sure winner, leaving one on the edge of their seat trying to figure out how Superman will escape the clever traps Atom Man lays for the Man of Steel. Bud Collyer does his usual superb job in the title role, and Mason Adams as the radioactive Nazi agent known as Atom Man. 7 1/2 hours of pure enjoyment, thrills and chills.0 of 14 people found the following review helpful. Very OveratedBy DVD CollectorI have purchased the CD version of this Radio Series and I have to say that the only worthwile feature of these episodes in the sound quality. Having said that the serial is [very weak].I was so disgusted by it that I have thrown the lot in the dustbin where they belong. a total waste of money if ever.There is no music or intro music to set the mood and pace of the serial and the sound effects are hopeless. As a real fan of both radio and film serials I have to say the Superman Vs. Atom Man is the most useless series I have come accross,... The only reason I have given this CD set 1 star is because I have no choice if I am to get my views on this site.
